I am a passionate candidate who is willing to devote all my time and energy to improving my skills as a full-stack developer. I already achieved proficiency in React.js by creating numerous side projects with it, and due to this, I believe that I will thrive while working as a front-end web developer, where I can thrive by creating high-quality components and eye-drawing UI designs with React.js. With React, I created my personal portfolio website, where I created my pages using multiple reusable components. I also created a Pomodoro website, utilizing react hooks such as useState and useEffect.

I never had a chance to work on big projects with a team, but I had a lot of teamwork experience in the past. I am a very extroverted person who can connect with people easily, and I love working with other passionate people towards a goal.

As much as I code a lot in my free time, I still have a lot to learn, and I am sure that working at cooledtured will help me build experience in front-end development. I am willing to learn from my mistakes, and I am confident that I will overcome any problem that will be thrown at me.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely, Seojin Park.
